

International Payment Solutions for the Construction Sector

Let's Build Something Better!

Fluctuation in foreign exchange is a real challenge for construction companies, builders merchants and distributors doing business in overseas markets. When paying overseas suppliers, FX fluctuation can cause a significant price increase in raw materials. It is also a major cause of cost overrun.

Your business needs a solution that mitigates the risks caused by currency volatility. You also need a payment solution that facilitates faster and safer payments and gives you visibility on cash flow to enable smarter business decisions.

"I can go online to buy currency and track my payments or call the dealing team at Fexco who are always accessible. The FX rates are competitive, my funds are secure and transfers are quick. It really is everything I need in a payments provider – thank you Billy and team at Fexco"

Eugene Agnoli,
Financial Controller
